Paola High School

Paola, Kansas

Introduction

The days of the 1965-66 school year have been memorable ones with the hands of the students, faculty, administration and school board busy with the year's accomplishments and with plans for the future.

A school bond issue for a new high school passed, a new vocational building was constructed, a pilot project course in areas common to all vocational courses was instituted, and the high school was evaluated by the North Central Association.

Meanwhile, back in the classroom, experiments were conducted, formulas learned, concerts given, themes written, plays produced, contests entered, tests taken .... everyone at PHS had his hands full.

Dedication

Mr. Charles Molina

The 1966 staff proudly and affectionately dedicates the yearbook, The Panther, to Mr. Charles Molina, PHS music instructor.

Mr. Molina has directed the band, choir, and small ensembles for the last five years, giving beyond the regular requirements many hours of his own time.

By his dedication to music and by encouraging students to develop their talents, he has made their lives richer in the field of music.

Surely the Paola High School music department could not have been successful during these years without his faithful instruction.

Categories Winners

These five pairs of hands have held many books, turned many pages, and written many words. Top intellectual talent from PHS won over Belton, Missouri, in the Kansas City WDAF television Categories program this year.

One of the main attractions at this year's prom was a huge whale suspended from the ceiling of the gym

Principal Bill B. Campbell and head football coach Dick Gilman chat together as they watch the "younger generation" dance the frug, the watusi, and the jerk.

Junior-Senior Prom

A nautical atmosphere of "Enchanted Seas" provided a background for the annual prom. Fish and a whale suspended by thin wire, the prow of a ship, treasure chests and pieces of eight created a scene of fantasy for the dancers.

Susan Kaiser, junior class president, and her date, Steve Kessler, junior, pause to admire the attention-getting jewel-filled treasure chest.

P H S Cheerleaders

Symmetrical formations and peppy cheers are the result of hard work and school spirit of PHS cheerleaders. They are, clockwise, Marla senior, head cheerleader, Sue Forslund, Jan Gillespie, juniors, Valerie Lamb, senior, and Janie Rowlett, junior.

Leading the band for the year were Nancy Kaiser, Drum Major, and twirlers Gail Shawver, top, Marjorie Atkinson, and Cynda Werntz.

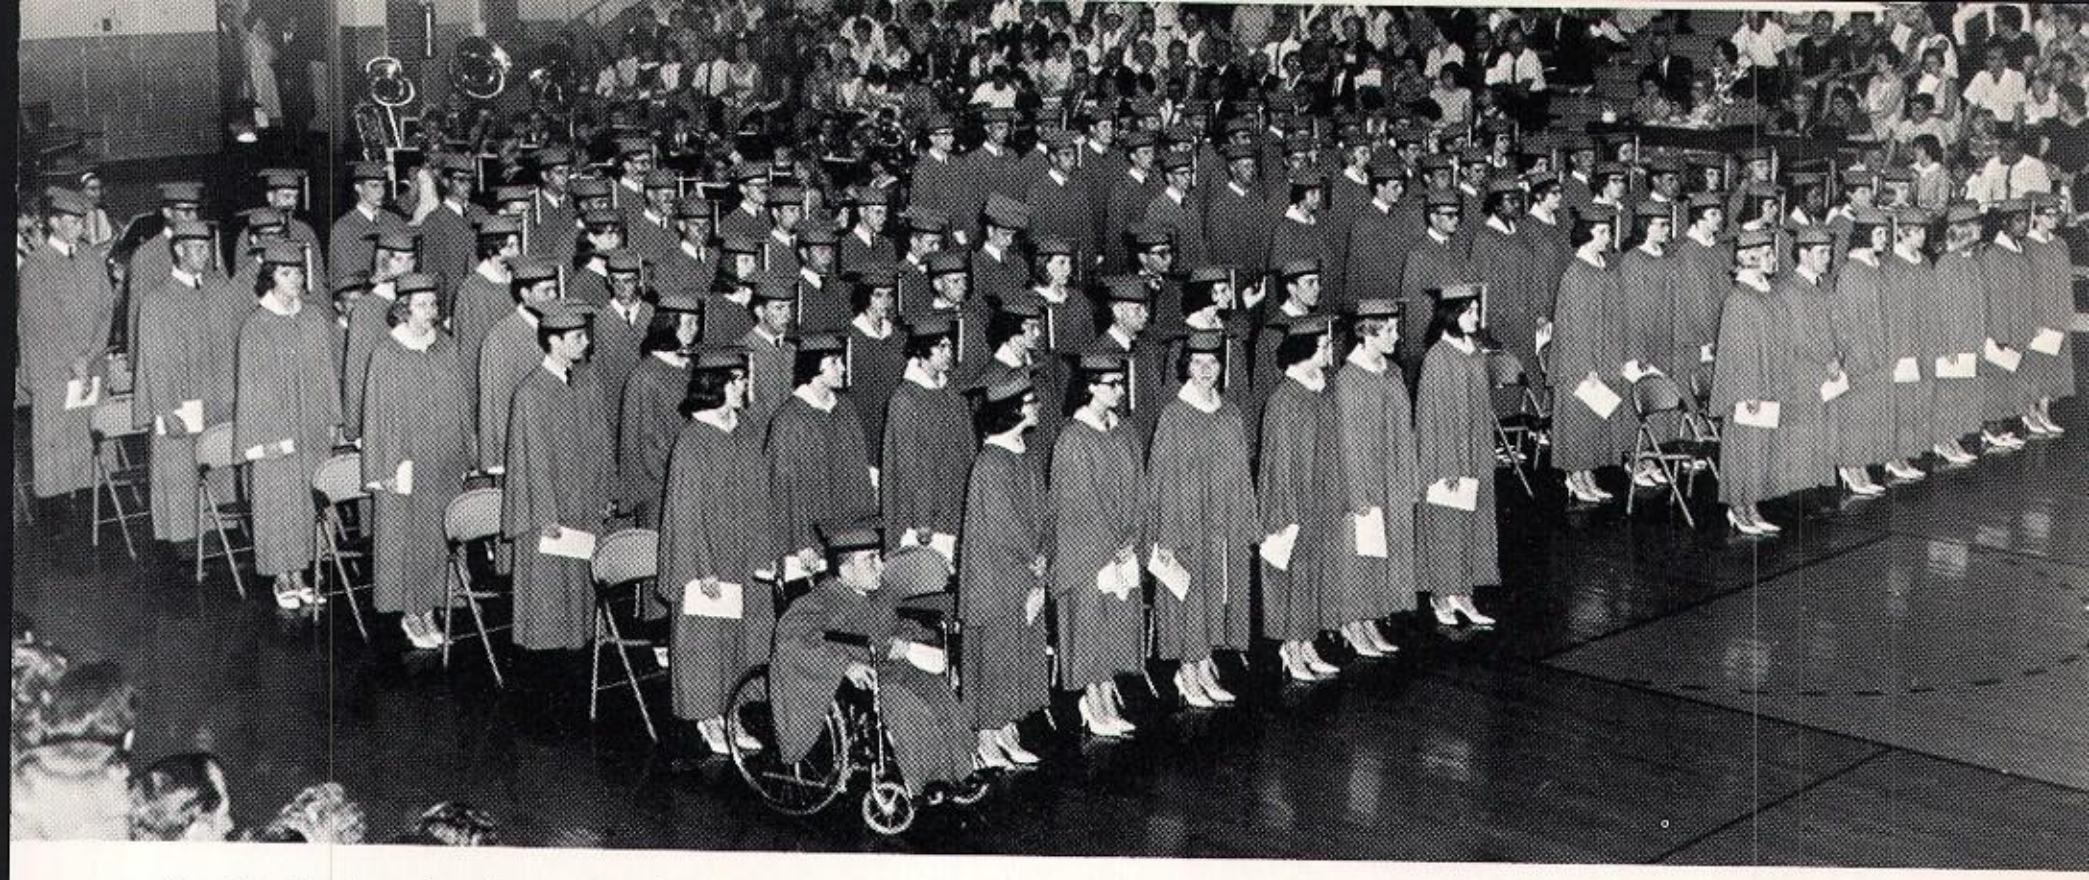
RIGHT: Steve Shawver, junior, blushes with joy after being crowned "Mr. Uglyman" by Marla Cortner, senior head cheerleader. BELOW: Smiling in suspense at what is to come next are senior football lettermen, Gene Skeens, left, and Clifford Durland, right. Cheers composed in humorous jest of each player on the varsity team are being anticipated here.



One hundred graduating seniors heard Dr. Kenneth Anderson, Dean of the School of Education at the University of Kansas, at exercises held in the gymnasium May 27.

Graduation 1966

Graduation Honors Valedictorian

David Stephens receives a check and congratulations from Superintendent Carl F. Gump. David was the valedictorian of the class as well as a National Merit semi-finalist and a Putnam scholarship winner to Kansas State University at Manhattan. David was also voted by his fellow seniors as the most likely to succeed.

Other Students Honored

Salutatorian

Myrl Duncan, ranking second highest in the class, receives a check for that honor from Mayor Rex Kiser. After a summer spent as a page in the US House of Representatives, Myrl will enter the University of Kansas this fall.

Future Teachers

The teaching profession will be rewarded with the presence and work of these students in a few years. Left, Richard Holtz and Melody Johnson were recipients of the Future Teachers of America scholarships and Clifford Yackle, the City Teachers Association scholarship. Melody also was awarded a CTA scholarship.

At Commencement

Other winners were, Left to right, Melody Johnson, Myrl Duncan David Stephens, Sharyl Manlove, and Bob Grabill. Melody and David received the Greason awards, Myrl received the Parent Teachers Association scholarship, Sharyl the Miami Hospital Auxiliary scholarship for nurses training, and Bob the Pemco scholarship for engineering.

Melody Johnson, left, was recognized for her work in the Y-Teens and Diane Bond for having the highest scholastic average of girls in Y-Teen by Mrs. Evaline Conway, sponsor of the group.

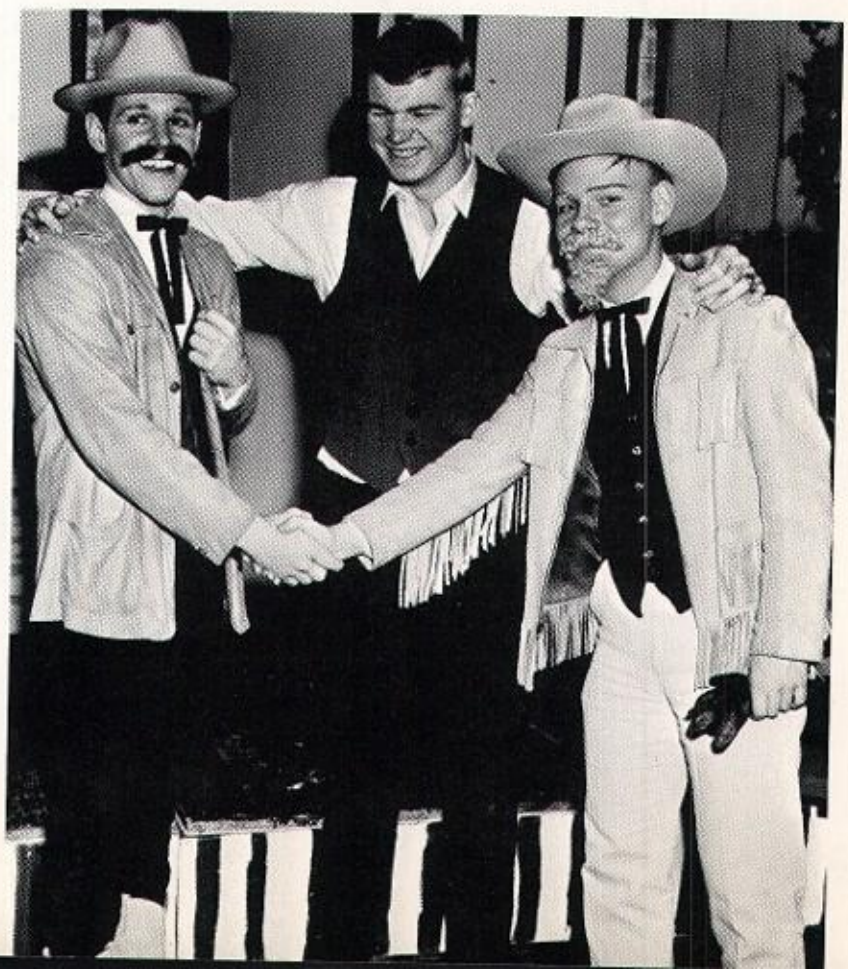
PHS Choir

Jim Sherar as Charlie and Clark Miller as Chief Sitting Bull contemplate putting an end to the meddling of Ruth Lohrenz who played Dolly Tate. All are seniors.

Seniors Jack Rowlett as Pawnee Bill and Myrl Duncan as Buffalo Bill congratulate each other on their astute business ability with senior Harold Homrighausen, Mr. Wilson, looking on.



Senior Play

"THE NIGHT OF JANUARY 16th"
by Ayn Rand

Karen Andre, played by Nancy Kaiser, right, was acquitted of the murder of her boss Bjorn Faulkner, by a jury of Paola citizens.
Miss Andre: "I want to go on the stand right away!"
Defense Attorney Stevens, played by Myrl Duncan: "I'm afraid it's impossible."

Janet Whitaker
Roberta: "If we were cast off together on a lonely island, it would still be lonely."

Dale Huntington
Regan: "No, Karen." Karen: "He's alive. You're lying to me!"

Charlotte Wilson
Flint: "Did he look as if he would kill himself?"
Mrs. Hutchins: "No, suh lessen he died a-laughin'."

The clerk, Ruth Lohrenz, administers the oath to Sammie McCormack, who played the wife of Bjorn Faulkner.
Clerk: "...so help you God."
Nancy Faulkner: "I do."

Prosecuting attorney Flint, Steve Hines, questions Glenna Haemmerle, who portrayed Magda.

Magda: "From wery first day, this woman come, she try to get her claws on Herr Faulkner."

Junior Play

"HARVEY" by Mary Chase

RIGHT: Has anyone seen Harvey? He is a six-foot imaginary white rabbit. Elwood P. Dowd, played by Steven Miller, seems to have misplaced his pet for the moment.

Left: Judge Gaffney, played by David Schwartz, gives Myrtle Mae some friendly advice concerning her Uncle Elwood.

Classes

Creating a thing of beauty occupies the attention of senior Cathy Barnett in art class.

Hands create beauty . . .

Future homemakers Helen Fannon, and Christy Salser, juniors find attractive Christmas decorations and gifts add to the beauty of the season.

Seniors Bill Buchman and Velinda Bowman conduct an experiment in distillation.

. . . and explore scientific mysteries

The lowly potatoes play a role in science for these students as they study crystals. Carving the potatoes in varied crystal shapes are freshmen, Larry Cole, Lisa Peuser, Harry Knoche, and Carolyn Haemmerle.

Best Actress and Actor

Hands convey ideas

Dramatic awards for the year were announced at the annual spring banquet. Cynda Werntz, for her portrayal of Annie in "Annie Get Your Gun," and Myrl Duncan, for his interpretation of Defense Attorney Stevens in "The Night of January 16th" won best actress and actor.

Best Supporting Actress and Actor

For their supporting roles, Charlotte Wilson as Mrs. John Hutchins in "The Night of January 16th" and Clark Miller as Sitting Bull in "Annie Get Your Gun" won recognition.

Best Backstage Help

No production is ever a success without efficient help behind the scenes. Bob Beach and Velinda Bowman contributed to the success of the year's dramatic productions.
